Tropical Storm Erika

GLYNN COUNTY, Ga. – The Glynn County Emergency Management Agency would like to advise area residents and visitors that Glynn County remains within the National Weather Service’s “Cone of Uncertainty” for Tropical Storm Erika. Forecast conditions for Glynn County have improved over the last 24 hours. However, rain and wind from the storm is likely to occur in Glynn County as soon as Monday. Tides are expected to be higher than usual and flooding is likely due to saturated ground. It is important to closely monitor this storm over the next several days as the storm approaches the area. We will continue to provide updates as needed. Everyone is encouraged to continue reviewing plans and making arrangements should our area be impacted.
